

Janeé Bolden is a writer, editor, television personality, cultural critic and influencer whose work in the media & entertainment space has landed her on television shows like CBS' Emmy Award winning daytime show "The Talk," HLN's "Our Story" and "Michaela" and TV One's Sister Circle. In addition to her work in journalism, Janeé is passionate about gender equity and has been actively producing and moderating panels for the last five years aimed at recognizing the achievements of women in the entertainment space. Previous panels at SXSW, A3C and other venues have been covered by publications including Variety, The Guardian and Rolling Out. Currently the Senior Director of Content at iOne Digital, Pop Culture, Janeé manages editorial strategy for leading digital brands Bossip.com, HipHopWired.com and GlobalGrind.com.