

The Look: Black Male Experience

Don McLaughlin
Senior Minister of North Atlanta
Church of Christ

Don McLaughlin is senior minister of the North Atlanta Church of Christ in Atlanta, Georgia.

McLaughlin has served his current congregation since 1997, following ministries in Ohio and Indiana. He is passionate in his teaching and preaching about creating an environment in which others can meaningfully experience God's life-changing love. He is especially focused on local and national initiatives to facilitate healing where racism has fractured families, friends and communities.

He has an undergraduate degree from Harding University, and after graduate work at Emory's Candler School of Theology, he is completing a Doctor of Ministry at Lipscomb University. He is the author of Love First: Ending Hate Before It's Too Late, a 2017 book and video series from ACU Press, and Heaven in the Real World: The Transforming Touch of God (Howard Books, 2010).

McLaughlin and his wife, Susan, have five children and three grandchildren.
